One day Mr. and Mrs. Perera went up to Gampaha to do some shopping. They had a busy day, though in the end they did not buy very much, and by about four o'clock they were both looking forward to having a cup of tea. They found a restaurant but, just before they went in, Mrs. Perera remembered that she had to buy some medicine for their son, who had a bad cough.

While she was in the pharmacy, her husband noticed a bookshop on the other side of the street. He went across to have a look in the window and saw a copy of a novel written by an author who was famous in the last century. He had always been especially interested in this writer, so he went in and bought the book. His wife was waiting for him when he came out. He showed her the book, but she did not look at all pleased; she always used to say that the old books he bought made the house look dirty.
